

ndi DREAM PROJECT

Since 2014, NDI has offered free specialized programming beyond the school day for children with and without disabilities through The NDI DREAM Project (Dancers Realize Excellence through Arts and Movement).

2024 SUMMER CAMP

August 12–16

Morning & Afternoon Sessions

9:00 AM to 12:00 PM

geared toward children age 12 and under or new to DREAM

1:00 PM to 4:00 PM

geared toward teens age 13 and over or returning to DREAM

FREE Enrollment for this free program is on a first-come, first-served basis with a waiting list once spots are filled.

Come dance with us!

NDI is seeking youth with disabilities to join us in August.

Participation Requirements:

- Open and excited to move and to partner with age-matched peers; no physical requirements and no previous dance experience required.
- Availability for the entire camp and performance on Friday, August 16
- A pre-program meeting and orientation in July

TO REGISTER & LEARN MORE:

Contact Carol Lee at
lee@nationaldance.org,
or call 212-226-0083.

National Dance Institute

Jacques d'Amboise Center for Learning & the Arts | Arnold S. & Madaleine Penner Building
217 West 147 Street, New York, NY 10039 | 212-226-0083 | nationaldance.org

about THE DREAM PROJECT

We believe that everyone can dance.

The NDI DREAM Project (Dancers Realize Excellence through Arts and Movement) is an inclusive dance program for children with and without disabilities. In this unique program, children with a wide range of disabilities and a group of age-matched, non-disabled peers from NDI's Advanced Teams become partners, dancing and performing together with the goals of maximizing participation, and challenging every dancer to achieve their best through teamwork, creativity, empathy, and discovery. The program culminates in a performance celebrating each child's success, the joy of inclusion, and the transformative power of dance.

DREAM was co-created by NDI Artistic Director, Kay Gayner, and Pediatric Physical Therapist, Agnes McConlogue Ferro. Our week-long workshops are held twice per year, in February and August, at our Center in Harlem. The program generally serves students ages 8 to 16 years old, though there is flexibility to include dancers who are slightly older or younger than this age range. DREAM is offered free-of-charge to all participants. Dancers are enrolled on a first-come, first-served basis with a waiting list once available spots are filled. For more information about our programs or to enroll, contact Carol Lee, Program Coordinator, at clee@nationaldance.org, or call 212-226-0083.

National Dance Institute

Jacques d'Amboise Center for Learning & the Arts | Arnold S. & Madaleine Penner Building
217 West 147 Street, New York, NY 10039 | 212-226-0083 | nationaldance.org